The Anwen brand is an innovative and conscious approach to hair care based on our knowledge and many years of experience. When creating recipes for our cosmetics, we take into account such an important factor as hair porosity, which is the most reliable when choosing the right active ingredients for them. Hair with different porosity - high, low and medium - requires different types of conditioning substances. It is equally important for us to maintain the balance between three groups of active ingredients that are found in hair cosmetics: proteins, emollients and humectants, which we focus on, when creating Anwen products. Thanks to these concepts, Anwen cosmetics are better suited to the needs of the hair and therefore more effective. The quality of our products is based on comprehensive research, modern and natural raw materials, rich compositions and high concentrations of active substances selected to have a positive effect on health, condition and appearance of the hair. At Anwen, we only create cosmetics that we want to use ourselves, ones that we would recommend to our best friend!

APIS NATURAL COSMETICS is a family business producing multifunctional body and face skin-care cosmetics. The company was founded in 1988 and its founder is Krystyna Arcabowicz - a biotechnologist, who has been fascinated by cosmetology throughout her life. APIS NATURAL COSMETICS was one of the first companies in Poland to manufacture cosmetics produced with Dead Sea minerals, which provide the skin with the very best elements ensuring the effective spectrum of nourishment. From the outset our company's priority in the process of the production has always been the highest quality of the final product. The technologies incorporated in the production of APIS NATURAL COSMETICS have been developed from the ground up, as we have our own microbiological, technological and physico-chemical laboratories. Our products combine the best natural ingredients with the latest developments in biotechnology and cosmetology.

Illuminating Serum Bless Me Saint Oil SKIN & MAKEUP

This is the first and at the same time a unique and natural cosmetic created by a celebrity make-up artist Aneta Kolendo-Borowska, who designed a product out of care for the most vulnerable and stressed skin of theatre and cinema actors and flight attendants.

Brightening Serum has an extremely luxurious formula with a complex of 8 organic, active oils: jojoba, evening primrose, macadamia, grape seed, lemongrass, geranium, myrrh and incense along with vitamin E. No preservatives.

Thanks to the delicate consistency of the Illuminating Serum skin gains a youthful glow and satin-like smoothness. The serum beautifully penetrates the skin without leaving a greasy layer on it.

The effects after using the serum are immediate, clearly visible and tangible. The Saint Oil recipe was developed for facial care, but thanks to its unique composition it can be used in many different ways.

COMBINING THE PLEASURE OF SOPHISTICATED CARE
AND 4D DERMOFUSION INNOVATIVE TECHNOLOGY

www.ChristianLaurent.eu

Christian Laurent® is an exclusive cosmetic brand specialising in body and face care products, a product of cooperation between two laboratories in France and Poland with the goal of responding to the latest world trends in the field of skin care. A unique concept of high-class cosmetics has been born, drawing from a sophisticated definition of luxury created by French masterminds of science and care.

Modern, breakthrough technologies and select active ingredients combined into sensually fragrant, silky smooth formulations deliver a fully immersive experience and astonishing nurturing effects.

The fragrance compositions of Christian Laurent® products have been developed in cooperation with leading French exclusive fragrance designers directly from Grasse - the world capital of perfume industry.

We believe that every woman deserves the best care. That's why we've been analysing for years both the French and world cosmetic markets and listening to our customers' needs.

We use natural, exclusive ingredients from around the world and draw our inspiration from cutting-edge technologies and dermocosmetical procedures, all in order to target precisely the particular demands of your skin.

We want your cosmetics to fit you just like the tailor-made dresses of French fashion designers - perfectly suiting your needs, bringing out the natural beauty, giving your style a touch of splendour and luxury in its purest form. Our mission is to create luxury cosmetics with a spectacular efficacy and an exclusive design, so that you can feel truly one-of-a-kind. That's the way you are.

Christian Laurent® Botulin Revolution™ is a luxury new line of global skin rejuvenating products. This unique technology, thanks to the accumulation of 13 technologically advanced biomimetic peptides, constitutes the cosmetic alternative to treatments with the use of botulinum toxin. Combined with luxury ingredients responsible for lifting and anti-ageing action, such as Snail Slime Filtrate, SYN AKET™, Centella Asiatica and Manuka Honey, they ensure wrinkle and mimic lines reduction, the skin becomes more elastic, regenerated, while the facial oval regains regularity.

Innovative face skin care products, the creation of which was possible thanks to the combination of experience and scientific knowledge. The only thing that we needed was also a spark – an idea. The assumptions of the quality of our products are based on the knowledge derived from the needs of the cosmetics services market, scientific knowledge and chemical practice. A number of laboratory tests were carried out, many mechanisms of action and methods of combining raw materials were verified. We selected active ingredients characterized by excellent quality, certified origin and safety usage. Thanks to the precise selection, active ingredients used in Ingenii's products allow to achieve visible effects in a short time. It's the combination of active ingredients in a way that ensures their complementary action. Ingenii professional – ingenious cosmetics with an idea, based on experience and knowledge.

Mokosh Cosmetics produces unique natural cosmetics, which are recognized by the quality and choice of raw materials, consistency and smell. The Mokosh product formulas are the fruit of the joint work of technologists and cosmetologists, which is why they meet the real needs of customers so well. The name of the company comes from the Old Slavonic Mokosh, goddess of earth, moisture, abundance and fertility, who in ancient beliefs took care of crops and women. Mokosh uses her gifts to create the recipes of their cosmetics. MOKOSH products do not contain harmful substances, SLS, PEG or parabens. We are constantly looking for new, valuable raw materials that could impress our clients with its effectiveness.

Purite Selected is a unique blend of bioactive plant and mineral-based ingredients with therapeutic essential oils. The first components improve the state and appearance of the skin, moisturizing and nourishing it. Essential oils stimulate the blood flow and cell regeneration, while also easing pain, making the skin smoother and adding radiance. They also have a beneficial impact on our well-being – they have a soothing effect, relieving depression, providing energy, heightening feelings of joy and even inducing feelings of love. The first 3 products for the Purite Selected line are dedicated to providing care for the bust, neckline and neck. Their aim is to regenerate and firm the skin, as well as alleviating any ailments resulting from PMS or menopause. Special glass packaging acts as a natural sunscreen and protects from the visible spectrum that quickens the aging process. As a result, Purite Selected cosmetics are naturally preserved and long-lasting, while the active enzymes and phytohormones have a longer and stronger effect.

Resibo is a Polish natural skincare company, established in December 2014 in Poland. Ewelina Kwit-Betlej, Brand Owner, created the product line in response to her own skin challenges and her awareness that others were experiencing the same problems. Positive feedback about her first product, the Cleansing Oil, which was at the time hand-made, brought about the idea to create a complete facial care line. Started from 6 now we offer 20 products with new ones to be launched soon. Originating in Poland, we are now available worldwide in 12 countries and we are currently working on other locations.

MODERN NATURE is calling! Resibo was a simple need, but also passion, so we work on new products until we're satisfied with results. And what results are satisfying for us? Effectiveness based on unique ingredients - in the terms of their exceptional properties proven by tests and researches. When the highest technology meets nature, you would join revolution in natural skincare.
